SAGE Video streaming collections, for library purchase, are developed in partnership with leading academics, societies, and practitioners, including many of SAGE’s own authors and academic partners, to deliver cutting-edge research-oriented video within the social sciences.

Each collection includes a breadth of video types and lengths to support students of all levels, such as case studies, tutorials, interviews with leading researchers, documentaries, footage of real-life professional contexts, quick reference definitions, and more.

The SAGE Video Education Collection offers a practical view into a full range of teaching settings and situations, from early years to educational leadership. As much as 65% of the content in this collection is exclusive to SAGE. Best-selling author and activist Temple Grandin discusses autism, and contributors also include leading authors Peter Smith on bullying, Dominic Wyse on curriculum, and Peter Earley on leadership. Teachers, principals, and other education practitioners demonstrate and discuss key methods to support students who need to understand theory or how to apply it in practice.
