SAGE video

Bringing teaching, learning and research to life

SAGE video

SAGE Video streaming collections are developed in partnership with leading academics and practitioners, including many of SAGE's own authors and academic partners, to deliver cutting-edge pedagogical and research-oriented video within the social sciences.

“ Visual literacy is a given for students today ”

– Angela Carreño, Head of Collection Development, New York University

What is SAGE Video?

An easily accessible resource with 400+ hours of streaming video collections in the social sciences, created for use across higher education, to support pedagogical needs for undergraduate teaching and learning, through to higher level academic research. SAGE Video combines originally commissioned and produced material with licensed videos to provide a complete disciplinary resource for students, faculty, and researchers.

What do academics think?

So much important information explained in a understandable way... An excellent addition to my source of videos.

– Bill Howe, Connecticut Department of Education

An impressive list of resources.

– Emmy van Deurzen, New School of Psychotherapy and Counselling, London

Easy to use... very impressed with the video collection. There are lots of options for teachers, clinicians, researchers to use.

– Ed Donnerstein, University of Arizona
