

Partner with SAGE to develop your WOMEN & LEADERSHIP teaching case

Series Editors:

Sherylle J. Tan, Ph.D. , Kravis Leadership Institute, Claremont McKenna College

Lisa DeFrank-Cole, Ed.D., Leadership Studies Program, West Virginia University

SAGE Publishing continues to grow its global case collection, SAGE Business Cases, across the business and management discipline while also focusing in on key areas we care deeply about. This women & leadership collection within SAGE Business Cases will highlight the rich and interdisciplinary topic of women and leadership. SAGE is pleased to offer case authors:

- Double-blind peer review of your case and teaching note (case = 1,000-5,000 words)
- A thorough editorial process, working to develop your ideas and prepare cases for successful publication
- Copyright in your name and final PDF for ease of use in your classroom
- Payment when your case is published
- An international audience for your work, supported by the global sales force at SAGE

Have you ever gone searching for a case in leadership but could not find one that worked for your class or level of students? Do you have an idea or a rough draft of a case but are having a hard time finding the time to execute on it? Have you written a case you currently use in your classroom? Bring it to SAGE and we will work with you to develop your idea. We publish cases written directly with company involvement as well as cases written from publicly available resources or fictionalized. We also encourage you to give your students the opportunity to work alongside you on research and/or writing. Case writing enables students to apply classroom principles and theory to real-world situations. They'll also benefit from peer review feedback and co-publication credits.

DEADLINE FOR SUBMISSION: May 31, 2019

Praise for SAGE Business Cases

"Both instructors and students will find SAGE's business case database useful. Instructors will want to assign cases from SAGE Business Cases, and students will almost certainly find the wide depth and breadth of the database useful for research purposes. Highly recommended for academic and public libraries." —ARBAonline

"SAGE Business Cases have been a welcome addition and innovation to the pedagogical portfolio for business educators of all types, fields, and levels. The initial case set covers a wide range of topics across all business disciplines. The cases are timely, relevant, realistic, and often offer meaningful, supplemental digital resources for faculty and students." --

Noah Barsky, PhD, CPA, CMA Associate Professor Villanova School of Business, Villanova University

For Questions, Sample Cases, and Author Guidelines contact SAGE Business Cases editorial:

Rachel Taliaferro (rachel.taliaferro@sagepub.com), Editor

Maureen Adams (Maureen.adams@sagepub.com), Executive Editor

sk.sagepub.com/cases