What is SAGE Video?

SAGE Video is an easily accessible resource with more than 1,600 hours of streaming video collections in the social sciences, created for use across higher education to support pedagogical needs, for undergraduate teaching and learning through to higher level academic research. SAGE Video combines originally commissioned and produced material with licensed videos to provide a complete disciplinary resource for students, faculty, and researchers.

What does SAGE Video do?

Supports students of all levels through a range of video types that can be used within class, as class preparation, for further reading, or in online learning settings. The resource provides:

- Seminal documentaries on subjects aligned to core curriculum topics
- Case studies on classic and newly published research
- Tutorials illustrating practical applications of methods and concepts
- Interviews with leading experts on key topics
- Practitioner demonstrations of theories and techniques
- Observational footage of practitioners in real-life professional settings
- Short definitions of key terms and concepts

Our video program has been developed in partnership with trusted advisors from libraries across the world, and each collection is overseen by an international editorial board.

New to SAGE Video

The SAGE Video Leadership Collection

The SAGE Video Leadership Collection is an interdisciplinary and multi-use streaming video resource, representing the field of leadership as it is researched and taught in a number of key subject areas, including business & management, education, health sciences, psychology, political science, and communication studies. It provides expertise on and insights into organizational contexts and real-life dimensions of leadership.

The SAGE Video Nursing Collection

The SAGE Video Nursing Collection features content aligned to support traditional baccalaureate- and masters- level nursing programs. It supports critical areas of nursing education that surpass the standard series on clinical skills presented in an array of demonstration, tutorial, and in practice videos. Interviews with active leaders and practitioners in the field are also included to provide insights into a career in nursing. SAGE has partnered with renowned nursing video producer, Medcom Trainex, to produce 12 hours of original content. The collection also features a new Assessment Tool for instructors.

Market Research

The newest collection of streaming video on SAGE Research Methods, Market Research, covers a range of essential qualitative, quantitative, and mixed methods for data collection and analysis for successful market research. Topics are covered at different levels of complexity, so users with no research experience through to those who have an established methods and statistics fluency will find something suited for them.

What do academics think?

[SAGE videos] are engaging, informative, and a great introduction to class. While watching, I ask students to identify the most important idea, the most surprising idea, and the most useful idea. The videos are a great conversation starter!

—Patricia O’Grady, Ph.D.
The University of Tampa, Florida

An impressive list of resources.

—Emmy van Deurzen, New School of Psychotherapy and Counselling, London

Easy to use...very impressed with the video collection. There are lots of options for teachers, clinicians, [and] researchers to use.

—Ed Donnerstein, University of Arizona
